

Holly's BIO for introduction purposes:

As seen on NBC's The Today Show, Fox News, and numerous other national and regional TV and radio, Holly is an internationally published author in US and Canada by Warner Books/Springboard Press, Random House UK, and TEA in Italy.

Holly formal education includes a Juris Doctorate, a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, graduate of the international Center for Creative Leadership, and she studied at Richmond - The American International University in London, England.

For nearly ten years, Holly was a practicing attorney, first as a litigator in the courtroom, and then she moved in-house to run a corporate legal department – drafting and negotiating multi-million dollar deals in the tech and telecommunications industries.

After that, while undergoing her toughest job yet – that of raising two children, Holly researched and published a book in four counties – successfully helping couples improve their relationship attitudes. Now Holly is sharing her wealth of attitude enlightenment with powerful confidence building keynote speeches that are sure to increase productivity both professionally and personally – because, in the workplace, an affirmative attitude is the overriding prerequisite to productivity excellence.

Please help me welcome Holly Hollenbeck.
